

Rev. Tom Dixon, the great preacher, of New York, will be the next lecturer at the Tabernacle. His date is Dec. 11.

We now have the largest store in this part of KENTUCKY, and still we are crowded for room. We will open up even the largest and finest line of Holiday Goods ever shown in Hopkinsville. A visit to our store will do you good if you only come to look. You will always find a crowd here, snow, wind, rain, cyclones or earthquakes can't keep them away. Our PRICES are what does it—they are simple, plain and true, marked in Plain Figures and only ONE PRICE (that is the lowest). No store could possibly devote more untiring energy to the Pulling down of prices than we do. Some poor devil buys every minute in New York, and our buyer is always there with the CASH.

SUBSCRIPTION IS A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

EVEN DEMOCRATS have something to be thankful for. It might have been worse.

The earthquake in Japan, Oct. 22, killed 182 persons and destroyed 2155 houses.

Miss MARY STEVENSON, the Vice-President's daughter, is critically ill at Asheville, N.C.

REBERTSON, the great Russian pianist and composer, is dead at St. Petersburg. Aged 61 years.

Col. W. O. BRADLEY jumped from the steps of a moving train last week, and had a narrow escape from death. Same here, Billy. Sink!

FRANCH, the Spanish anarchist who threw a bomb into a Barcelona theatre and killed twenty people, a year ago, was garroted Wednesday.

GEN. WEY, who lost the battle at PingYang, has lost his head, by order of the Chinese Emperor. This is one way of punishing cowardice.

The Southern Magazine is in hard lines, and will probably co-siditate with a Northern Magazine. The November number is not yet out.

Mrs. Cuthbert Bullitt has gained some more notoriety by withdrawing her suit for divorce. They're made up.

EDITH STILES, of the Dover Spectator, has become a sort of Golden Stairs, so to speak, by marrying a widow with $100,000 in land in her own name.

When a woman's suffrage becomes an anarchist is explained as follows: A woman suffrage, a woman's vote, but when a woman gets a vote, she was an Anarchist.

—Paducah Standard.

It is understood that Mrs. Cleveland will be compelled to retire from society again this winter in anticipation of an interesting event that is expected to occur in March next. Several ladies of the diplomatic corps will be dismissed this winter for the same reason.

That scheme to have both Clay and Hardin withdraw in favor of McCrory for Governor, to insure harmony next year, has been nipped in the bud. Mr. McCrory declines to be considered in the deal and expresses the opinion that each of the present candidates can be elected by a large majority.

The subject of Col. Breckinridge's lecture will be "Ten Years Among Tariff Reformers." If he means the ten years from 1884 to 1894, this attempt to prove an alibi comes too late. The public understands pretty well that much of Willie's time during the last ten years was not spent among "tariff reformers." Some of it was passed—but that's no matter now.

The Covington Commonwealth is keeping tally of the papers opposed to the secret ballot. It may add the KENTUCKIAN to its list. It opposed the present constitution on account of the secret ballot provision, and it stands ready to do all it can to obtain the repeal of the obnoxious clause. The old viva voce plan, open and nasty, was good enough for us.

The Courier-Journal has felt called upon to reply to editorial criticism in the Owensboro Messenger, Paducah Dispatch and other State papers. Mr. Watterson for once finds himself on the defensive and forced to explain things that have appeared in his columns to the injury of the Democratic cause. There was a time when the country press blindly followed wherever the Courier-Journal led, but this is no longer the case. The rural rosters have found out that Mr. Watterson is just as prone to error as they are and have learned to do their own thinking. The Courier-Journal may begin now to prepare itself for a signal defeat if it expects to stay free-lance in the next State convention. Kentucky is not a goldsmith state and the Courier-Journal will find itself all most alone in its opposition to silver.

Prayers for rain were offered in all of the churches of Dallas, Tex., Sunday.

Oh, my! Wouldn't those Mexican editor-writers like to get hold of Jack Collier?

A Republican millionaire named Addicks, is in effect the vent in the senate now held by Higgins, of Delaware.

Dr. CLARKE crowded Col. Hendricks for that "banister district" honor. Dr. Clarke's plurality was 3032 and Hendricks' 3118, only 86 greater.

Yale defeated Harvard by a score of 12 to 6 in the match game of foot ball Saturday. Many of the players were hurt, and one very seriously.

The Logan recently eaten by Mexican cannibals was not the Louisville editor. The hungriest of cannibals would not dare tackle Emmett until he could not get through a fatiguing process.

R. E. ROBINSON, a newspaper correspondent, and Jas. Logan traveling with him, are said to have been eaten by cannibal Indians on an island off the coast of Mexico. If Robinson was an average newspaper man and had his cheek with him, some savage must have lost his front teeth during the meal.

Who says the KENTUCKIAN is not a newspaper of "some importance?" By holding over some of our full-page advertisements until next week were largely able to get along with two pages this time. And still the holiday rush for space is just beginning.

It is still a matter of doubt who has been elected Governor of Tennessee. The Democratic claim to have discovered gross frauds in the Republican counts, where thousands of unregistered voters were allowed to vote in defiance of the State law. The legislature will count the vote and if Evans was elected by fraud he will not be allowed to qualify.

Mr. BAND and Miss HOOP eloped from Livingston county and were married the other day. With names like those, they were doubtless well fastened together.

Thanksgiving Proclamation. Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 10.—The following proclamation was issued today:

Executive Department.—In observance of a long established custom, I respectfully recommend that Thursday, the 29th day of November, be set apart as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer by all citizens of our beloved Commonwealth. For God's mercies let us turn thanks, and obey His law by doing us justice and kindness to the needy and afflicted.

In testimony, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth to be affixed. Done at Frankfort, this 20th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and ninety-four, and in the one hundred and third year of the Commonwealth.

By the Governor: JOHN W. HEADLEY, Secretary of State.

Danger From Catarrh.

The most important feature about that very common complaint, catarrh in the head, is its tendency to develop into some other more serious and dangerous disease. The foul matter dripping from the head, and the breathal tubes or lungs is very liable to lead to bronchitis or consumption, that destroyer which causes more deaths in this country than any other disease. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local application can do but little good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla. The powerful action of this medicine upon the blood cures every impurity, so doing cures catarrh and gives health to the entire organism.

Mr. Wm. R. Greenhalgh, Baltimore, Md. "For four years I was in intense suffering with an abscess on my thigh. It discharged freely and several times."

Pieces of Bone Came Out. Last February I had to take to bed for four weeks, and then I was obliged to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I soon got on my feet, but was very weak and went to the Maryland University Hospital, where they said my trouble was chronic blood poisoning and gave me little hope. I returned home and continued taking Hood's. I have used six bottles and the abscess has entirely disappeared, and I have been in fine health ever since.

I know it had not been for Hood's Sarsaparilla I should be my grave. I have gained in weight from 14 years ago to 17 pounds today.

Memorial of Mrs. James M. Glass.

The ladies of the Ninth Street Presbyterian church, and especially of its Missionary Society, desire to place on record an expression of our affection for, and great sense of loss in the death of Mrs. James M. Glass. Her life has been passed before us. The daughter of a devoted Christian mother, she was in infancy baptized in the Presbyterian church, whose doctrines she loved and adhered through a long Christian life.

Who that knew her doubted her deep devotion to the Master, to his cause and people.

She was faithful to every duty. In all her home life as friend, neighbor, and in loving service in the Sunday School, in her church societies she set forth the beauty of her Christian life. It is especially sad to the older ladies of the church to give up one whose counsel was ever just and true, whose companionship was comforting, whose beautiful hospitality was a blessing to all who came within her home. Let us emulate her example, closing up our ranks and following the blessed Master whom she so lovingly served, looking unto the crown and victory which now are hers.

MRS. KATE HENX, MRS. ALEXANDER, MRS. HICKMAN, Committee.

DEATHS.

COLEY.—Mr. Geo. Coley, of Clinton, a young man about twenty-two years of age, died November 19, after a brief illness.

COLE.—Capt. D. Armstrong Cole, one of the oldest residents of Louisville, Ky., died of rheumatism of the heart, at his home in Nashville, last Thursday night, after an illness of about two weeks. Capt. Cole was about 50 years old and had been in the U. S. service for more than twenty years. He conducted a passenger train on the St. Louis division for a number of years and was well and favorably known by the traveling public. He was held in the highest esteem by the railroad as well as by all who ever had the pleasure of his acquaintance. For the last two years he had been running between Nashville and Birmingham. The remains were taken to Franklin, Ky., for interment Friday.

BEALEY.—Mr. R. B. Bealey, the only son of Joseph Bealey, of Lafayette, died suddenly of heart failure Friday night. He was thirty-five years old and leave a wife and two small children. Mrs. Bealey and children, who have been visiting relatives in Arkansas for several weeks, were telegraphed the sad news and are expected to arrive today, when the interment will take place at the family burying ground near Lafayette. Mr. W. N. Ducker, of this city, went down Saturday morning and embalmed the body.

Dr. Kilmer—I have been suffering with falling of the womb and have spent a great deal of money in trying to be cured, but found no permanent relief until I began using Olive Branch. I have used five boxes, and feel perfectly well. To me about the matter I had a good physician to examine me, and he says, I am well. He told him that I used, and he said that "Olive Branch" had done its work well."—Mrs. Anna M. Kilmer, Union City, Tenn.

A BARON'S HOME LIFE.
HIRSCH IS A ROYAL ENTERTAINER, INFED.

Europe treated with His Magnificent Castles—The Twentieth Century Castle at Eichen—Chateau in France and Manoir in Hungary.

ENJOYING BEING
one of the greatest financiers, general philanthropist and richest man of all Europe, Baron Hirsch possesses an additional quality in the eyes of his friends and acquaintances, namely, that of being the very perfection of a host and successful entertainer. His shooting parties at his Moravia place, the twelfth century castle at Eichen, his modern country seat of St. Johann in Hungary; his chateau of Neuregard, in France; his mansion in the Rue de Blysses at Paris, and his town house in London are famed throughout the length and breadth of Europe for the perfection of their organization, the abundance of the sport and for the lavish hospitality of the baron.

It is generally in the early part of August that the baron arrives at Eichen for the autumn season. The shooting season opens there is a constant succession of guests from every part of the world. Just at the present moment he has with him the duke and duchess of Devonshire, the Earl of Dudley, Lord de Grey and a number of other persons of high rank and leading. Eichen is a superb place, a rocky car commanding a gorgeous panorama of the surrounding country.

BARON HIRSCH.
Baron Hirsch, who is but little over 60 years of age and wonderfully well preserved, rises early in the morning, while the majority of his guests are still sound asleep, and spends an hour in exercising with Indian clubs, dumb bells and aerobics before bathing and dressing. He then drinks a cup of black coffee and eats a slice of dry bread in a small turn forest, from which he can see the sun rise in all its splendor across the low lying plain at the foot of the mountain. At 6 o'clock in the morning he receives his secretary, M. Porth, and before the general breakfast bell sounds has got through a formidable batch of correspondence, interviewed his house steward and settled with his head gamekeeper the precise locality of the day's sport.

Dressed, as usual, with scrupulous care, his costume is essentially English and exceedingly quiet. The baron and his two adopted sons usually join the shooting party for luncheon in the middle of the day, wherever it may happen to be in the forest, and the sportsmen do not return home until 6 in the evening. After tea and a short siesta they sit down at 8 to a dinner cooked by the baron's famous chef, who enjoys a European celebrity and accompanies the baron everywhere.

In striking contrast with the mediocrity of the baron's life in the modern mansion of St. Johann, in the heart of Hungary, about half way between Vienna and Pesth, with the baron and his guests usually migrate after a couple of months spent in Moravia. On alighting at the station the guests find typical Hungarian carriages, with servants armed in Magyar costume, awaiting them, and drive along a magnificent ten mile road constructed over a sandy stretch of country and passing over no fewer than thirty-six bridges to the village of St. Johann. This road was constructed by the baron and has naturally caused him to be looked upon in the district as a national benefactor.

are super and there is an absolutely priceless "Holy Family" by Van Dyck hanging in the library.
The baron's chateau of Neuregard near Paris, is likewise somewhat remote in style, and dates from the reign of Louis XIV. King Louis XV was very fond of staying there and it is on record that on one occasion while in pursuit of a stag he rode through the grand salon on horseback.
In 1849 Napoleon, at that time president of the French republic, purchased it from Gen. le Marquis de Gallifford and presented it to Miss Howard and she was not only his agent but also his financial backer until he became emperor. On marrying Eugenie de Montijo, Napoleon made this chateau the case for confining upon his bella amie the title of Comtesse de Neuregard. On her death Miss Howard bequeathed the place to her son by the emperor, who bore the title of Comte de Neuregard, and the latter died in 1879 to the eccentric Duke de Neuregard.

CATHERINE HARRISON. WITCH.
A Paper on the Early Witch Lore of Connecticut.

Dr. C. A. Hooley read a paper on "Catherine Harrison, Witch," at the meeting of the Connecticut Historical society last week. Dr. Hooley said that while Catherine Harrison was not executed, two were undoubtedly executed for witchcraft in Connecticut and there were others about whom there might be some doubt. This community was not swept by the superstition as was part of Massachusetts, but there were those here who held to it. Catherine Harrison was a house servant before her marriage, and one of the daughters of the house where she worked made out that she was a "notorious liar, a Sabbath breaker and a fortune teller." The deposition said she had caused sickness to some people, death to others, had an unhealthy influence over animals, had been seen to appear as a cat and change back to her own shape, and that her form or face had frequently appeared at people's bedchambers and other unlikely places. At this trial she was not convicted. She was arrested again in May, 1690, and again committed to jail. At the following term of court she was indicted, pleaded not guilty, and was tried before a jury. This jury then failed to agree, and she was remanded to jail until court should come again in the fall. At that term the jury rendered a verdict of guilty, but the court was not satisfied. It obtained an expert opinion on witchcraft from some ministers, and still not being satisfied, referred the matter to the general court. She remained in prison until May, 1770, when the general court released her on the payment of the "just fees" of the trial and on condition she should leave the state. Catherine Harrison left the state and went to Westchester, N. Y., but her reputation preceding her, the inhabitants complained to the governor. At about this time she was placed under bonds for good behavior. She was afterwards released.

MUST COME INTO COURT.
Haveney, President of the Sugar Trust, is to be indicted.
Henry O. Haveney, president of the sugar trust; John E. Searies, its secretary, and Allan L. Seymour, member of the firm of brokers in Washington, were indicted by the grand jury of the Criminal court of Washington. The indictment against Mr. Haveney is based upon his refusal to answer questions propounded by the United States senate committee, that investigated

HENRY O. HAVENEY.
The sugar trust concerning the contributions of the sugar trust to party campaign funds. The case was certified by the Vice-President to the district courts for action, which was taken in the indictments. Mr. Seymour refused to answer any questions in regard to sugar stock purchased or sold by his firm, and was likewise certified.

The Commoner's Industrial School.
Thaddeus Stevens' will establishing an industrial home for boys in Lancaster, Pa., which has been in litigation ever since it was probated twenty-six years ago, has finally been confirmed according to the interpretation of his executors, and the school and home will be started very soon. The "Great Commoner," as Stevens is to be called, provided in his will for the foundation of the home, provided that the residue of his estate, after the payment of his debts and all other bequests, should amount to $50,000. His executors found that by allowing time for the maturing of certain interests, the residue would very soon reach that sum, but the heirs, with the customary indifference to what the testator desired, fought the highest on technical grounds. After all these years, the highest court in Pennsylvania has affirmed the decision of the local court that the estate, having reached the sum named by Stevens, should go for the purpose he specified. This industrial home is to be open and free to boys, without regard to race or sex.

Nothing is Wanted in Paris.
Even the smallest scrap of paper, that which every one throws away, here becomes a source of profit. Old provision time, for instance, are full of money; the lead soldering is removed and melted down into sales, while the tin goes to make children's toys. Old boots, however bad, always contain in the arch of the foot at least one sound piece that will serve again, and generally these are two or three times over. In the sole, the heel and at the back, scraps of paper go to the cardboard factory, orange peel to the marmalade maker, and so on. The doors suggested are not always agreeable, and to see a ragpicker fishing orange peel out of the basket is enough to make one forever unamiable; but there is no worse than that. The most valuable refuse—that which fetches two francs the bushel—is hair; the long goes to the hair dresser, while the short is used, among other things, for clarifying oils.

You may have "piles" of money, but if you also have the PILES, you still have piles of trouble. Constipation is the worst enemy you have. Turpentine to manuring with crude and phosphates.
Hood's Sarsaparilla acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, and in this way positively cures eczema.

Dixon Dec. 11 at the Table, incl.

Mrs. E. G. McLeod, of Madisonville, J. W. McGowan, of Clarksville, and H. L. Dolan, of Springfield, Tenn., spent a day recently with their friend, Mr. J. T. Wall, of this city, discussing plans, etc. for their spring trip. We learn that these enterprising merchants have associated themselves together for the purpose of buying goods direct from factories. They represent eight different stores and own their goods on the basis of Southern jobbers.

Good coffee is a great blessing and a good coffee pot in the family is a joy forever. A representative of the Kentuckian has tested the merits of the self pouring coffee pot now being sold in this city and pronounces it a first class article. It makes coffee in the simplest sort of fashion and makes it as good as the best. It is not only simple but economical and the self pouring feature is a great convenience to the lady who sits at the head of the table.

The attention of the public is invited to the half page ad of Mr. Jno. R. Kitchen, the South Main furniture dealer, which makes its appearance in to day's issue. Mr. Kitchen's business has increased to such proportions that he has found it necessary to secure additional room in which to better display his line of chairs and has accordingly opened up these goods in the Overbrier & Longene house, three doors south of his regular furniture store. Call and see him when needing fine goods in his line. He has a magnificent stock, all the latest in furniture.

A Foreign Looking Town.

Portsmouth, N. H., is the most foreign looking city in this country. Its quaint old buildings give it a close resemblance to an old English harbor town. Charleston, S. C., is, however, almost equally interesting.

BEVERLY NOTES.

A Newer Letter From South Christian—Reception Weddings and Social Events.

BEVERLY, Nov. 17.—Our little village has been very prompt in furnishing news here of late, so now as we have quite a great many things of interest we come again.

On last Tuesday there was an elegant reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Cayce in honor of Mr. Bur Harlow and bride. About two o'clock the guests were invited to the dining hall, where an elegant supper of five courses was served. We wish the young couple many years of happiness and joy.

On Wednesday night, the young gentlemen of the neighborhood serenaded the young couple. The music was lovely. One awakening ram would have been favored the "angels were howling round, striking gently the harp and lyre."

The meeting at Locust Grove church closed last Tuesday night. It was a delightful meeting. Bro. Given is indeed a splendid man, and won the hearts of our good people.

Boys, what will Ben do now? You should offer "your sympathy and love in this, his trying hour."

The scarlet fever scare is about over now. All of the cases are out of danger.

Misses Mary Lou and Bessie Kenner will go to Trenton on a visit in a few days. We hope for them a pleasant visit.

On Thanksgiving day, at Locust Grove church, one of our most charming young ladies will be made as one. From what Madame Rumor says, another wedding will soon be here in this immediate neighborhood.

Misses Armstrong and Huffman stayed long enough in our midst to take away several hearts. We guess some of the boys will be following Bur's example.

Ask "Nix" where last he saw the moon, and how he came to know so much about the "case." Mind, young man, how you "haunt" the bridge hereafter.

The widowers of the vicinity are coming to the front. Watch out boys, you will lose the prize yet.

X. Y. Z.

PURELY PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

What Some of the Free Boys Say About Our New Shape.

The Hopkinsville KENTUCKIAN now makes its appearance in a new, eight page form and is printed in a new building and on a new press. The KENTUCKIAN is evidently prosperous and it would not be surprising if it should blossom into a first class daily in the near future.—Paducah News.

The Hopkinsville KENTUCKIAN has enlarged to a six column quarto and otherwise improved. Bro. Meacham has just completed a handsome new building for his plant and given other evidences that he is a blessed bondholder, requiring two men to clip his coupons. We hope that in his prosperity he will not forget that he was once like a poor poverty stricken country editor.—Interior Journal.

The Hopkinsville KENTUCKIAN appeared in eight-page form last Friday. Its advertising patronage is enough to make the average newspaper man's mouth water, and it is a better paper in many respects than ever before. Editor Meacham, like wine, improves with the passing years.—Franklin Favorite.

The Hopkinsville KENTUCKIAN has changed in a form and now appears as an eight page paper. The Progress excepted of course, the KENTUCKIAN is one of the best papers in this end of the State and its editor, the tallest editorial scoundrel of the Penury, has our cordial good wishes at all times.—Elston Progress.

The make up of the Hopkinsville KENTUCKIAN has been changed to a six column-quarto, a splendid change in an already splendid paper.—See Lee Ledger.

Something About a Great French Actress.

Miss Gabrielle Rejane, of whom one hears so much nowadays, is one of the few women who has triumphed over public prejudice against an actress with a plain face. Miss Sarah Bernhardt and the Harcourt de Korbach helped to make Rejane famous. The well born, well brought up Miss Rejane did not take her audience by storm at her debut. In fact, she pegged away at her profession in most commonplace style after overcoming her mother's prejudice against it and after changing her name to Rejane to suit that prejudice. Miss Bernhardt's violent quarrel with her in Germany, simply because Emma admired her talent, sprung her into fame and the famous Adolphe's kindness fixed her fortune. From the business of amusing great folk by her clever monologues at the occasional matinee articles she has risen to almost the level of Bernhardt in Parisian estimation and commands a nice social position as well.
